About this directory

This directory provides a list of all plant-based meat manufacturers, plant protein ingredient companies, and cellular agriculture companies (cultivated meat, precision fermentation and molecular farming) with operations in Australian and New Zealand.

See a gap? If you represent a company of this kind with staff and infrastructure in Australia or New Zealand, please get in touch with information for inclusion in this directory.

Coming soon: a web-based form you can use to submit up-to-date details for the next directory, updated every six months.

We'd love to hear your feedback on categories, available options, suggestions for improvement, and way of working with Food Frontier. Please contact us: info@foodfrontier.org

Who is Food Frontier?

Food Frontier is the independent think tank on alternative proteins in Australia and New Zealand. We're committed to growing our region's protein supply with new, sustainable and nutritious options that create value for farmers, businesses and consumers. We help businesses, policymakers and innovators across our region to understand the emergence of plant based meat, precision fermentation and cultivated meat, and unlock the economic, environmental, and public health benefits they offer. Our work is funded by grants and donations.
